

The System.

Task Lighting

These fixtures focus light directly to the top of a client's head. You can now correctly evaluate, color and bathe the immediate work area with the perfect balance of intensity and brilliance of light. This fixture will allow you to see all the details of your haircuts and haircoloring while preventing eyestrain as you work. As a surgeon needs to see the area being worked on, so does the hair colorist or hair stylist. Our task light, available in track, recessed or pendant style, uses only 22 watts of power and the bulb is rated to last 12,000 hours.

Ambient Lighting

This is the most noticeable lighting in your salon. You see it as soon as you arrive. It is the "workhorse" of your lighting. A room should have approximately 75-80% of its entire light given off by this fixture. It directs light up to the ceiling spreading an even canopy of bright light while simultaneously showering the salon with a soothing downlight. Correct use of ambient fixtures will enable you to use other fixtures for lighting your client with milder lights, preventing shadows or washed out skin tones. Our fixture uses 70 watts of power and the bulb is rated to last 15,000 hours, as compared to fixtures that use between 150 and 300 watts of power and are rated to last significantly fewer hours.

Mirror Light

This fixture, made with a state-of-the-art dimmable LED, sits alongside the station mirror. It is essential because it eliminates circles under the eyes while adding warmth to the skin. This is the light the client sees as they are sitting in the chair. It adds a warm glow to the skin and an overall healthy look to the complexion. The ambient and task lights are bright and cast plenty of brilliance. The mirror light will balance out the room adding a much needed warmth. In the past, this was achieved through inefficient light bulbs. This fixture uses less than 10 watts of power and is rated to last more than 25,000 hours.

"Everyone knows that we're fanatic about our work and the lighting that shows it off. Now you can have the same lighting as we have in our Madison Avenue salon."
